> Using plant based design by SONGHEES & ESQUIMALT ARTISTS
> Having plants & Flowers that are local to these lands present throughout the scenery (i.e. Camas, stinging nettle, arbutus trees, nootka rose, CHOCOLATE LILIES and more) > Representation of familial ancestor names or names in which Government street area may have been known for (i.e Clam beds, a place for traditional ceremonies, Reef Net Fishing or more) > Using Artists from SONGHEES & ESQUIMALT Nations ONLY, this could be done by also hiring someone that can help get are local artists and start these conversations as many of our artists may not have the capabilities to make there work digital or not have a trust with the local City of Victoria to feel confident in approaching and providing their ideas. > Reiterating again that priority should be given to Songhees and Esquimalt Nations first then from surrounding artists >S. 22 would love to be apart of this as well S. 22

Would love to see incorporation of Lekwungen history incorporated in some type of storytelling structures such as the spindle whorls have been done. Possibly totems, murals, paintings, in different areas of government street that has a theme as you continue walking the length of it. Lekwungen based shops - this also increases Lekwungen authenticity in the storytelling. The Lekwungen cultural plaza is a great idea for Lekwungen cuisine opportunities, gift shops, Lekwungen arts and crafts shed for sharing with learners/passers by, performances, etc. Pedestrian pathways free of bicycles, vehicles - only foot pedestrians with families who have elderly (walkers, wheel chairs) and children (strollers).

Incorporating art into the cement. Using different textures or colours to bring uniqueness to it. Example: a repeated design on a brick that goes along the sidewalks to make way for planters, using the repeated brick on the edges of the planters In sidewalks there can be coloured clear areas that can be used in art. Similar to the installation of the sidewalk prisms (broad street) Having signage of traditional plants - using native plants in the planters, share knowledge Adding a rain garden to the area: rain gardens actively filter the water before going down into the drainage system Using drought resistant plants: year round foliage to admire Potentially bird houses so that urban animals have places to nest Incorporating a live wall in an area, boosts insects and bring more colour into the area
