

Sensitive Ecosystem Inventory

Much of Stadacona Park is within a provincially designated Sensitive Ecosystem Inventory (SEI) area. The designation occurred in 1993 as part of the first SEI to occur in British Columbia. The original SEI mapping systematically identified the ecologically significant and sensitive terrestrial ecosystems remaining in the area. The study was designed to support sustainable land use decisions and to encourage wildlife conservation.

